The Week In Society.

THE ARTIST.

The New Year came and dipped his brush

In morning's blue and rose,
And painted with a master-hand
The canvas of the snows.
Beneath his rapid strokes the pink
Of wild arbutus grew,
With gold of dancing daffodils,
And violets bright with dew.

But even while I lingered there,
Held breathless by his art,
And watched beneath his magic touch

The buds and blossoms start,
Among the branches overhead
I heard a robin sing,
And saw a rainbow in the sky,
And knew that it was spring!
—Minna Irving in April Lippincott's.

4. Club Discussion.

A Quiet Social Calendar.

These weeks succeeding Lent have been so devoid of the usual social rush that it has been noticeable. Usually all the pent-up energy of Lent finds an outlet at Easter week and the ones succeeding it, in a number of entertainments that can be hardly classed as informal, but not so this year, even the informal ones have been few. It is true that the days have been a busy round, but they are filled with club affairs, not of a social order. As one bright woman said the Woman's club did not leave one time to have a party. A hostess of a social club for Easter week, had to postpone it a week in order to get day that was not filled with some meeting of a literary nature. This used not so to be, usually the literary diversions were pursued as a Lenten pastime, and never allowed to interfere with the more serious business of pleasure after Easter. The wide ramifications and absorbing hold that the Woman's club has upon its members everywhere, is beginning to evidence itself here perhaps in this superiority of the old-time frolicking.

Pretty Dinner Party.

Dr. and Mrs. Victor Voris entertained very charmingly with a dinner on Tuesday evening at their home on Broadway. The place cards, with carnations were tied with wide green ribbons. Green candles and condiments added color to the table. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Budd, of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. James Utterback; Mr. Thomas Leech, Mr. Richard Rudy.

Yancy-Williams Wedding on Wednesday.

The marriage of Miss Mary Halene Yancy and Mr. Richard Allen Williams will be solemnized on Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock at "Hendons," the attractive country home of the bride, on the Mayfield road. The Rev. S. B. Moore, of the First Christian church, will perform the ceremony. Miss Blanche Mooney will play the wedding march.

There will be no attendants. The bride will be given away by her father, Mr. William L. Yancy. She will wear a pretty and artistic costume of brown silk voile, with hat, shoes, and gloves to harmonize, and will carry bride roses. A wedding breakfast will be served after the ceremony and the couple will leave at 9:30 o'clock for Chicago. Milwaukee and other points. They will be at home after May 1 at 421 North Fifth street, in Paducah.

Miss Yancy is a charming and attractive girl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Yancy, prominent residents of the county. She has a large circle of friends in Paducah where she attended school. Mr. William is a popular young fellow, the son of Mrs. Mary D. Williams of North Fifth street. He has an express run between Cairo, Paducah and Hopkinsville.

Dinner Party and Box Party to Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bleecker entertained a few of their friends at dinner on Monday evening at their home on North Fifth street, in compliment to their house guests, Mrs. George S. Sweeney, of Boston, Mass., and Miss Harriet Raines, of Nashville, Tenn. The table was beautifully appointed in a color scheme of white and green. The eight covers included: Mr. and Mrs. Bleecker, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Friedman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips, Mrs. Sweeney, Miss Raines.

Mr. and Mrs. Friedman entertained later in the evening the party in their box at the Kentucky theater to see Blanche Bates, in "The Girl from the Golden West."

Five Hundred Club.

The first meeting of the Five Hundred club since before Lent was held on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. A. R. Meyers was the hostess at her home 1434 Broadway. It was a pleasant affair with the vacancies filled by visitors. An attractive luncheon followed the game. The club prize, a fan, was won by Mrs. Victor Voris. Mrs. Charles E. Richardson captured the visitor's prize. Mrs. George Sweeney of Boston and Miss Raines of Nashville were the out-of-town guests.

Entre Nous Club.

Miss Blanche Hills entertained the Entre Nous club very charmingly on Thursday afternoon at her home on North Ninth street. The house was prettily decorated in spring flowers. Only the club members and a few visitors to fill vacancies were present. The club prize was captured by Miss Corinne Winstead. Miss Nell Paxton won the visitor's prize. A prettily appointed luncheon was served in the dining room after the game. This was the last meeting of the Entre Nous club for the season.

Carpe Diem Club.

The Carpe Diem club was entertained at cards on Wednesday evening by Miss Marie Roth at her home on Harahan boulevard. The head prizes were won by Miss Maggie Lydon and Mr. Oscar Greif. Mr. Joe Roof captured the lone hand prize. The consolation prizes went to Miss Hazel Ashoff and Mr. Paul Legeay. A delightful luncheon was served after the game. Only the four club tables were present.

The club meetings have been changed from Thursday to Wednesday evening hereafter. Miss Kate Grogan, of 922 Trimble street, is the hostess for April 24.

Informal Evening Party.

Miss Vernon Pool entertained a number of her friends on Tuesday evening at her home, 605 Husbards street. It was a pleasant occasion and the guests were: Misses Lizzie Sexton, Clara Rhodes, Clara Scott, Jennie Warren, Ida Sexton, Nellie Rorark, Mayne Heath, Nina Birch, Ruth Pool; Messrs. Frank Beadles, Allison Watts, Oscar Straub, Will Farrow, Will Thomas, Robert Yancey, Cecil Robertson, Joe Goulioux, George McFadden, Ivan Pool.

Pleasant Party.

Miss Sudie Cabell, of 723 Madison street, entertained a number of her young friends on Wednesday evening with a "peanut party." It was an enjoyable affair. The peanuts were piled on tables, and the one taking out the greatest number with small candy tongs without shaking the others captured the prize. The girl's first prize, a belt buckle, was taken by Miss Gladys Couborne. Master George Hughes won the boy's prize, a pocket-book. The booty prizes, a doll and a bridle, went to Miss Mildred Orme and Master Bernard Kavanaugh. Delightful refreshments were served. The guests were: Misses Mary Burnett, Sarah Corbett, Grace Hills, Grace McElathery, Mildred Orme, Helen Van Meter, Martha Cope, Elizabeth Terrell, Gladys Couborne, Eliza Hale; Masters George Hughes, Will Fisher, Bernard Kavanaugh, Frank Buckner, Lucien Burnett, Charles Hatfield, Edwin Lightfoot, Salem Cope, Pat Grogan and Turner Powell.

Magazine Club.

Mrs. A. S. Dabney was hostess to the Magazine club on Thursday afternoon at her home on North Fifth street. The magazine discussions were especially interesting. From Harper's magazine Mrs. Edward Bringham reported a delightful article "The Music of Man and Birds," appropriate to the springtime. Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips gave very charmingly a story of Justus Miles Foreman from the same magazine. Mrs. Frank L. Scott cleverly discussed "Why Casultry Should Be Studied By Women" by George Harvey in the North American Review. Miss Helen Lowery presented very forcefully the tribute paid "Longfellow" by William Dean Howells in the Review. A delightful luncheon was served. Mrs. George Sweeney, of Boston, Mass., was a guest of the club.

At the business session Miss Anna Webb was elected president of the club for the next year. Miss Webb was the first president and did much for its upbuilding. Mrs. J. C. Flournoy, as vice president; Miss Minnie Ratcliffe as secretary and treasurer; and Mrs. E. G. Boone as corresponding secretary, were re-elected. Miss Ethel Morrow was elected to fill the vacancy in the club membership.

Mrs. Webb and Mrs. George Wallace were appointed a committee to get up the year-book. The delegates to attend the Kentucky Federation of Women's clubs at Shelbyville are Mrs. J. C. Flournoy and Mrs. Frank L. Scott. Mrs. Hal S. Corbett and Mrs. Edward Bringham are the alternates. There will be only one more meeting of the club before disbanding for the year.

Kalosophic Club.

The Kalosophic club held a pleasant meeting on Friday morning at the home of Miss Blanche Hills on North Ninth street. "Current Topics" was presented by Miss Katherine Powell. The life of Oliver Goldsmith was sketched by Miss Clara Park. "The Dramatic Art of Tennyson and Thomas A. Beecher" were discussed by Mrs. Henry Rudy. "She Stoops to Conquer" was the play for the club study.

Enjoyable Birthday Party.

Miss Fannie Rittoff, of 1027 South Fourth street, entertained a number of her friends most pleasantly on Monday evening in honor of her birthday. The house was prettily decorated with palms ferns and spring flowers. Music and games were features of pleasure. In an amusing donkey contest Charles Smedley captured the first prize and Louanna Gideon the second prize. At 9:30 o'clock an elaborate luncheon was served in the dining room. The table was attractively decorated with flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Vogel, Mrs. Meigan, Mrs. Tyree, Mrs. Crenshaw, Mrs. Ballowe and Miss A. D. Smith assisted in receiving and entertaining the guests. Among those present were: Minnie Vogel, Johnnie Alexander, Oma Tyree, Jeannette Rittoff, Fanny Rittoff, Irene Mayes, Zola Smedley, Monnie Crenshaw, Nellie Hogwood, Rosie Meigan, Florence Senses, Louanna Gideon, Nell Mayer, Grace Roling, Ruth Oehlschlaeger, Esther Radford, Carrie Butler, Jessie Cowi, Vivian Jones, Jennie Somers, Genela Ballowe, Minerva Fritzius, Amy Simon, Emma Burrows, Lillian Clark, Dean Burrows, Esther Elliott, Ruth Sauerberg, May Clark, Lillie Helwig, No-

Miss Benah La Mond and Mr. Royal Meahl, prominent young people of the county, were quietly married on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the priest's house of the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church, by the Rev. Father H. W. Jansen. They were attended by Miss Pearl Meahl and Mr. John Clark. The bride wore white silk mull and a flower hat. An informal reception was given on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, the Massac section. The house was prettily decorated with ferns and white carnations and an elaborate supper was served. On Thursday evening the parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Meahl, entertained in their honor at their home, at Maxon's Mill. They will reside on the groom's farm beyond Maxon's.

The marriage of Miss Lizzie May Stetson and Mr. Rob Dallas took place on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Grainger, 1226 South Sixth street. The Rev. Peter Fields performed the ceremony. It was a quiet but pretty home wedding. They are popular young people of the south side and will live on Broad street.

Mr. James Bryant, of this city, and Miss Susie Leonard, of Sharpe, Marshall county, were married on Tuesday at Benton. They have arrived here and will reside at Eighth and Boeckman streets. Mr. Bryant is a well known ship carpenter and his bride is an attractive young lady, the daughter of Mr. B. Leonard, a leading citizen of Marshall county.

The wedding bans of Miss Myrtle Burch and Mr. Joseph Wurth were published this week at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church. The marriage will take place April 23 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church.
